

Analysing and evaluating

It is important to reflect on and analyse and evaluate the outcomes of design and production activities.

Key questions to ask:

- Does the solution solve the problem, needs, wants and opportunities outlined in the design brief?
- How could the process of designing and producing be improved?
- What has been learned about ways of thinking throughout the design process?

